INVESTING DESTINY

Monthly Review

Chinese 7th Month (8 Aug - 6 Sep)

Time flies, and time to get ready for the upcoming new month, Chinese 7th month.

Before I go into investing, let's talk about this 7th month's "sensitive star 廉贞" energy. 7th month is a month with "sensitive star + challenging energy" formation 廉贞忌. If this formation enters your Self or Mindset angle, you can suddenly feel restless, negative, emotional, or destiny may lead events into your life which may trigger negative and emotional energy. If you feel it or you sense that it's affecting someone beside you, remember to relax, stay positive, and don't let it lead to bigger consequences. It's good to go to nature to relax, exercise, do yoga, eat and do things which make you happy. It can be more sensitive during this current Covid environment.

And how can this "sensitive star + challenging energy" formation affects our investment?

This formation basically stands for emotion. Some investors can experience a wide swing in emotion, and the worst case it can happen is these emotions impact investors and lead to emotion trades. Investors can emotionally chase a stock which they missed, or investors may use their emotion and sell in a panic. Investors usually regret after they execute an emotional trade.

So, stay calm, know your limits, understand your investments, and don't stare at live quotes and let them stir up your emotions.

In fact, this formation hits into my Self box, and I spent the last one week getting myself ready for it. Re-construct my portfolio, check through their balance sheets, and set a plan for myself. I will step back for 3 weeks, unless stocks hit my pre-set alert levels.

Note, in my ID experience, stock prices can still move up in a month with challenging energy, but ID is telling us to be careful if we want to buy in such month. I will always avoid entering the market during my challenging months, and I may happily sell if prices hit my selling target.

Know our own ID energy, know our stocks. And know that greed and fear ALWAYS affect our investment returns.

(note - you are welcome to email me and check whether the above formation hit into your Self or Mindset)
